Online Sales Channel Strategies Cutting Through the Noise Online

The pieces you source are real.
The buyers seeking them are real.
And regardless of what's shifting in the technology landscape, online marketplaces that cater to buyers of art, vintage, and antiques are very much open for business — and a channel important to your strategy.

Working with US and UK dealers and their inventory documentation, management, and sharing needs for more than five years, one question remains consistent: "Where should I list online to increase sales?" That's what launched our annual Online Marketplace Guide in 2022, built in partnership with LAPADA and refreshed each year so your research starts in the right place.

With vintage and antiques leading global design trends, having at least some of your inventory visible where buyers are already looking is smart business. The tools, tech, and AI — they're changing at a fast pace. The ways buyers find sellers are evolving daily. But at either end of every transaction, there are still two human beings. Marketplaces help them find one another.

Wishing you a year of visibility, strong sales, and steady growth.

» Evolving with the Market: Opportunity, Collaboration and Change in 2026

The art and antiques market enters 2026 with a sense of cautious optimism. While global uncertainty and rising costs, particularly around shipping, continue to present challenges, there are clear signs of resilience. Recent findings from the Art Basel & UBS Global Art Market Report point to modest growth across the market, echoed by many dealers reporting a strong start to the year.

What is perhaps most notable is how the market continues to evolve in this landscape. New generations of collectors are engaging with art and antiques in different ways, prioritising personal taste, individuality and sustainability over traditional notions of investment. We are also seeing artists and dealers explore increasingly creative routes to market, from brand collaborations to alternative retail environments.

In this landscape, collaboration is becoming more important than ever. Whether through associations, partnerships or joint ventures, collaboration offers both new routes to market and opportunities to save costs.

In this context, understanding the full range of sales channels available has never been more important. Online marketplaces remain essential for the trade, but with so many options available, choosing the right platforms requires careful thought.

Ronati's Online Marketplace Guide is an invaluable resource in navigating this landscape. By bringing together clear, practical insights into the leading platforms, it equips dealers and galleries to make informed decisions and position their businesses for success in a changing market.

Global

Antique Interiors Online is a modern marketplace for antique furniture and interiors, helping buyers find what they need with clarity and precision. It allows direct buyer-to-seller communication and emphasises intelligent categorisation and filtering, so customers can search visually and intuitively. The platform showcases carefully presented antique pieces from trusted dealers, with new listings added regularly.

BUYERS	Collectors, interior designers, and private buyers with mid- to high-level budgets.
WHAT SELLS	Antique furniture and interiors, including chests, cabinets, tables, seating, storage, and decorative items, focusing on period, materials, and craftsmanship.
REQUIREMENTS	Dealers must apply online. Pieces must be accurately described and categorised, and quality presentation and professional standards are expected.
PRICING	Boutique Dealer: Free monthly / 17% commission Gallery Dealer: £79 per month / 10% commission Showroom Dealer: £349 per month / 5% commission

IN THE WORDS OF ANTIQUE INTERIORS

» “Buyers often know what they want visually, but don’t know the correct terminology to search for it. Our platform removes that barrier by allowing customers to refine their search by period, material, form, features and construction details. This means better-quality enquiries and greater visibility for specialist stock.”

eBay is a site to sell anything from collectibles to fine antiques. eBay makes it easy for buyers and sellers to connect. You can list your items auction-style or have a set "Buy It Now" price. Sellers can also set an option allowing buyers to make an offer regardless of the sales process you select. When a buyer buys an item, shipping is integrated as an additional cost. To maximize sales potential, you will need to supply the shipping cost to different countries when you list the item. Due to the vast number of items available in each category at any time, accurate keywords and descriptions and good photography are particularly important.

BUYERS A wide range of buyers.

WHAT SELLS Collectibles, vintage, and antique pieces across all categories and periods.

REQUIREMENTS It is advised to set up a business account if you want to sell professionally.

PRICING Set-up cost $0, first 250 listings free, then $0.35 per listing and per category, varied commission starting at 12% plus $0.30 per sold item.

IN THE WORDS OF EBAY

» "With a long history of being a go-to site for antique enthusiasts, eBay is great for dealers who specialize in collectibles and smalls. If you sell furniture, it's wise to have a trusted shipper so you can communicate shipping costs with the customer before the sale is complete."

Etsy is a global online marketplace designed for handmade and vintage products. Its catalog has a very wide range of items, but is mostly known for clothing, jewelry, decorative pieces, and small furniture. The Etsy platform allows for the sale of multiple pieces, or for items that can be reproduced for resale.

BUYERS	A wide range and overall a younger customer base with smaller budgets.
WHAT SELLS	Handmade and one-of-a-kind items including vintage and antique pieces such as furniture, lighting, art, decorative accessories, tabletop, and jewelry.
REQUIREMENTS	No requirements to join.
PRICING	No set-up cost. Optional $10 monthly Etsy Plus subscription. $0.20 listing fee. 6.5% transaction fee of sale price including shipping, 3% + $0.25 payment processing fee, 12 – 15% offsite advertising fee when sale is made from Etsy Ad.

IN THE WORDS OF ETSY

» “While Etsy is known for its strong focus on handmade goods, dealers of antique and vintage pieces can also succeed on this site. Its open enrollment, low commission rate, and lack of a monthly subscription fee make it a great platform for dealers starting out. Seasoned dealers with a well-curated collection can turn large profits on inventory not suited for vetted sites.”
